>> REGISTRATIONS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

The registrations are planetary and the opening to orange wine has stimulated the winegrowers. Japan is committed for the 2nd year with the emblematic grape variety of the island, Koshu. Mexico is mobilizing thanks to the dynamic Consejo vitivinícola Mexicano. The Czech, Greek, Romanian, Slovak and Slovenian estates are organizing themselves. Hungary, rewarded with gold and a dry wine trophy in 2021, is also getting back into the game.

Kazakhstan will present Riesling. Wines from Australia, South Africa and the USA will compete. As for the vineyards of the European heart Austria, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and Spain, it will be worthily represented.

>> JUDGES AND PARTNERS IN EFFERVESCENCE

Faithful from the start, Serge DUBS, Best Sommelier of the World 1989 will chair a table of juries after having commented on the appetizer wine, an important step in the calibration process, before launching the tastings of the wines in competition.

Pr. Dr. Monika CHRISTMANN, Honorary President of the OIV as well as Roberto GAUDIO, delegate of VINO FED confirmed their presences.

A delegation of international judges, prevented during the two previous editions due to health restrictions, will make their big comeback and thus enrich the panel of the 70 experts. Yegas NAIDOO / South Africa, Jim MAC MAHON / Australia, Debbie TEMPLETON-SMEKRAR / Canada, Bob MADILL and Mickael SCHAEFFER / New York, François COTÉ / Quebec - Diana PAVELESCU / Romania... not to mention our neighbors across Rhine which we are delighted to reintegrate.

The ANEV, the Association Nationale des Elus du Vin is once again involved in order to convey a message that will be emulated by French estates. Those from Alsace, Languedoc, and Loire intend to defend their 2021 Best Dry Wine Trophies in their category.

>> FOCUS ITALY AND WINE FAIR IN 2023

As announced at the beginning of April, ITALY is in the spotlight in 2022 and we are offering you, with the precious collaboration of our expert judges, a selection of Italian wine news in the PRESS BOOK distributed on May 16th.

This focus will be the preamble to a great tasting of transalpine wines organized in 2023 on the occasion of a WINE FAIR scheduled in close connection with the Mondial des Vins Blancs Strasbourg.
