The Xavier MULLER estate,
Winner of the 2023 Grand Jury Prize

«Two months after the announcement of the Jury's Grand Prix, the stock of our Sylvaner Cuvée Emile 2020 was sold out!

What makes me happiest is the pride my customers feel when they say they're regulars at the estate: our medal is in a way theirs too.

I hope that all Alsace winegrowers will one day experience this kind of distinction, because our Alsace wines deserve it.»

Czech Republic
The REISTEN estate
At the 2023 competition, REISTEN won a GRAND GOLD medal and the Coup de Coeur prize for the best wine made from an indigenous grape variety for REISTEN PALAVA MAIDENBURG 2022.

«We've been sending wine to the Mondial des Vins Blancs Strasbourg for a number of times now, so we're particularly interested in feedback, and Strasbourg certainly has a good reputation among wine lovers.

For me, it's also interesting that this competition is being held in France (Alsace), Germany's neighbour because of its proximity to us. The varietal wines we find there are made from grape varieties close to our own, so it's a good opportunity for us to make comparisons», explains Tereza Helmová - Head of Operations

France
The cellars of Pomerols
Winner of a gold medal at the 2023 Mondial des Vins Blancs Strasbourg in the other grape varieties category with AOP Picpoul de Pinet Beauvignac, cuvée tradition 2022

«Presenting our Picpoul de Pinet PDO at the Mondial des Vins Blancs Strasbourg was a way for us to lay claim to a terroir, an appellation and cooperative know-how. This award honours and rewards the professionalism of our winemakers, oenologists and all our staff, and opens up a royal road for the company. It demonstrates and recognises a significant increase in performance. It's a promotional tool, a way of enhancing our image, a sort of «guiding star» for wine lovers.» - Joël JULIEN Director/Oenologist, Caves de Pomerols

Spain
Leo & Niné Wines from DO SOMONTANO
Dry wine trophy in the Gewurztraminer category and GOLD medal, for the wine: VIVETTE 2022

«We found out about the competition via the Spanish trade press. This is the first year we've entered the competition, so we're very pleased with the result. As well as being the only Spanish estate to win a gold medal in the Gewurztraminer category, we have also been awarded the title of Best Dry Gewurztraminer in the world.»
